

TIMELESS, THE INTEGRITY OF EVERLASTING DESIGN

GANDIABLASCO invokes elegant and sober design that will last over time with its new outdoor furniture collection Timeless created by José A. Gandía-Blasco Canales and Borja García.

Inspired by the rational architectural language from the early 20th Century its design of discreet but characterful forms communicates honesty, without any unnecessary ornament other than its structure. Its various elements are carefully balanced in order to provide maximum comfort.

José A. Gandía-Blasco Canales, company president and author of some of its most emblematic collections such as SALER or the OUTDOOR SPACES line, is also responsible for TIMELESS together with the young Valencia based designer Borja García, known for his industrial design and architectural work, and also the designer of RAW spaces for GAN, the handmade brand belonging to GANDIABLASCO.

TIMELESS is manufactured entirely from welded powder-coated aluminium, making it lighter and easier to move around despite its dimensions. Teak timber, a natural material that is highly resistant to exterior conditions, provides the finish for the various pieces of the collection.

The aluminium structures are available in a range of GANDIABLASCO colours as well as a specially created line for this collection. The different upholstery options for outdoors allows the collection to become chameleonic in the sense of adapting easily to its settings, whether for residential or Contract applications.

TIMELESS is a collection that includes five modular sofas that make different compositional options possible, including a stool, chair, low chair, armchair and modular pouf, high table and banches.

The collection will be presented during the upcoming edition of the Salone del Mobile, during the month of April.
